I Knelt To Pray

by F. D. Flynn

I knelt to pray when day was done
And prayed, "Lord bless every one,
Leave from each saddened heart the pain
And let the sick be well again.'

And then I woke another day
And carelessly went on my way.
The whole day long I did not try
To wipe tears out of the saddened eye.

I did not try to carry the load
of another brother on the road.
I did not go to see
The sick man next door to me.

Yet once again when day was done
I prayed, "O Lord bless everyone."
But as I prayed there came a voice into my ear...
There came a voice that whispered clear.

"Pause, hypocrite, before you pray,
Whom have you tried to bless today?
God's sweetest blessings always go
From hands that serve Him here below."

And then I hid my face and cried,
"Forgive me, Lord, for I have lied."
Let me but live another day
And I will live the way I pray."

Harvest Is $53 Million

Atlanta, Ga. --Challenged with growing a whole new forest in the South by the year 2000, Virginia's forest industries planted or distributed for planting 38,-550,000 seedlings during the 1969-70 planting season.

This year's tree - planting season in the South has just begun and will continue through early March, 1971.

Seedlings planted in Virginia this past season represent about 8% of all the seedlings planted or distributed for planting by pulp and paper, lumber and plywood companies in the 13 state Southern region, according to the Southern Forest Institute, Atlanta, Ga.

"This is also the first time we've been able to present a comprehensive report on the planting of Supertree pine seedlings," George E. Kelly, executive vice president, SFI, explained. "Supertrees are genetically superior stains of pine, which grow taller, straighter, bigger around, less tapered from bottom to top, up to 25% faster than ordinary pine trees," he said.

In Va., some 529,500 Supertree seedlings were planted during the 1969-70 season.

How To Make A House A Home

Do you ever get weary as you toil each day,
Doing your household duties in a burdensome way?
Just a-dusting and a-mopping and a-sweeping the floors,
Being agitated by the squeaking doors.

Walking many miles until you wear out your shoes;
Yes, then you get the washday blues.

Cooking and washing the dishes until the sun goes down,
Fussing at the children and wearing a frown.

Hitting at the dog and kicking at the cat,
Fussing about this and fussing about that.

You haven't told your husband that you love him and appreciate all he's done,

He hasn't paid you a compliment since Johnny was a boy — now he's twenty-one.

There's so much fussing and fretting in your family today

That no one enjoys stopping at your house when he passes your way.

You're frustrated, unhappy, and desire to roam;
It's about time you made that house into a home.

If you find your family duties are drudgery,
Just look to the Father above,
Because you've never discovered the pathway of love,

If household duties make you weary as onward you go,
Check up on yourselves, your goals are too low.

Just fostering and cleaning and toiling each day
Is only secondary to the happy way.

With goals so low you can't help but want to shirk,
But all these tasks are just in the day's work.

Can you believe this is all life has for you?

Look up to Jesus, ask Him what He wants you to do.
He'll bestow blessings from above,
He'll show you His Kingdom — a Kingdom of Love.

Then that dull dust mop will begin to have life,
That old broom will sing,
You'll find meaning in almost everything;

You won't be weary, you won't want to roam;
You'll be too busy making that house into a home.

Drudgery, you say; don't ever let it enter your mind.
To establish a home is a calling Divine.
To train young lives the way they should go,
To show them the way Jesus would have them to know.
The father has the calling as the head of the home
To direct, love and cherish all of his own.
The mother walks beside him and is loving and kind,
Is priceless, above rubies — a better jewel you couldn't find.
The key to this happiness is held by God above,
You must take Him as your partner in this home of love.
Ah, yes, be not weary, you don't need to roam;
With God as your landlord you can make that house a home.
